ALUMNI LEADERSHIP TRAINING PROGRAM

The third annual Alumni Leadership Training Program was held on campus from April 4 - 8. Ten national GCAA chapters were invited to send a representative to the workshop and nine were able to respond. The participants this year were Heimo Antila, '34 (D.C.), Al Hargreaves, '70 (West Va.), Patsy Bowman, '78 (Jacksonville, Ill.), Carol Armstrong, '69 (Va.), Nancy Becker, '71 (Mass.), John Groth, '69 (Ga.), David Halberg, '53 (Conn.), Betty McBroom, G-'70 (Tenn.) and Virginia Ward, '50 (Ky.).

The gist of the workshop involved hearing a number of speakers on such topics as "Alumni and the College Recruitment Program," "The Changing College Mission" and "How Gallaudet Alumni Can Help Parents of Deaf Children." Rap sessions and group discussions were conducted as well as a tour of Ole Jim, our future Alumni House/Multi-Purpose Building.

The Charter Day Banquet, on April 7, officially ended the workshop. Leon Auerbach, '40, was the guest speaker and Art Roehrig, '68, was the toastmaster. Present at the Banquet were the officers of the GCAA Board of Directors, who had been on campus the day before to conduct the last regular meeting of its term.

THREE CHEERS FOR MARTY WILLIGAN

Springtime is here and Kendall is green once again! We have all noticed the beautiful trees in bloom, the tulips popping out of the ground and the lush green grass surrounding Mt. Gallaudet.

Marty Willigan, Gallaudet's grounds supervisor, and his staff work year round keeping Kendall Green in shape by shoveling snow, planting flowers, trimming shrubbery, mowing grass etc. The construction has made its mark on our beautiful campus but Marty and his crew have been working to keep the remaining grounds as beautiful as ever.

The next time you walk on campus and see their work -- take a minute to count the times you have trampled on the grass to reach your destination seconds faster. We could all help to keep Kendall green by walking on designated walkways and in general respecting the hard work done by our grounds department.

Three cheers for Marty...keep up the good work.

ENERGY TIPS FROM JIM HULL

"Did you know - that a single 75w lamp bulb produces more light than two 40w bulbs? Where the fixture permits, one larger lamp of 25% less total wattage will give approximately the same output of light. You save electricity as well as on the cost of lamps. One caution: never exceed the wattage the fixture was designed for.

"Did you know - that cooking utensils made of glass or ceramics can save energy for you? Such utensils generally require temperature settings about 25 degrees lower than you would need for metal pans."
